Mother's Day...

I have always said, "Well mom if it wasn't for you I wouldn't be here." As insensitive as that statement is, it is so true in so many ways. There is nothing like mom. Mom helped you get through the tough times in life as a kid and even gets on to you when you don't call her enough as an adult. Mom provided comfort for you when you lost your pet lizard and discernment when you thought you need a bigger one the next time. Mom cheered you on when you struck out every time you went to the plate in baseball and helped you decide that you probably should try something else next year. Mom helped you get dressed for the big school dance and reminded you that you represent God everywhere you go so do the right things. Mom helped you learn how to drive while screaming "slow down" and biting her tongue when you almost hit every mailbox in the neighborhood. Mom was super nurse when you fell down the same day you got your first pair of skates and got a strawberry on your knee the size of the moon. There is nothing like mom.

It has been said once before by a little kid about this particular day, "Mom why aren't you cooking lunch for us today? It is just mother's day and we sure don't want dad to cook. I guess we are going out to eat again..." For one day a year, we take the time to remember and celebrate our mothers. Each day should be this way. Do you treasure the time you have with your mom? Do you treat as the God given gift that she is to you? Don't take for granted the fact that mom will always be there. I am sure that many of you reading this can testify to that. Mothers are priceless. One of many things I can say about my mother is that she pointed me to God. The most important thing you can do as a mother is show your children Jesus. Model it before them, teach them daily about the sacrifice that Jesus made for us and our response of obedience to Him, and help them understand their need for a Savior. You can teach your child how to cook, or clean house, or dance, or hit a ball, or run fast, but the most important thing that you can ever teach them is about Jesus. There is nothing wrong with those other things in and of themselves, but when they replace the time you should spend with your children helping them come to Christ they become bad things. With that said I am thankful for my mom and the sacrifices that she made through the years to help me be the best at whatever I was doing.

Thank you mom for being there for me, because if it wasn't for you... I wouldn't be here.
